Hyatt Hotel Coconut Point, FL

CMMI Purchasing
Rosemont Purchasing

Initially, we had the pleasure of working directly with one of the principals of CMMI, Mr. Jim McCullough to create a Tuscan feel in a Florida resort by incorporating amber scavo hand blown Venetian sculptured glass with oiled rubbed bronze frame work. A whole series of light fixtures were designed to complement each other throughout the facility. We are very proud to have worked closely with Mr. Xanthus Terro and Ms. Tracy Koneski to design, create and install at this prestigious project.

Rockwell Group Design
ISC Purchasing

After the successful installation at the “W” Union Square New York with our Riguada hand blown Venetian glass, Mr. David Mexico and his team were so pleased that they wanted to incorporate the same glass throughout the Mohegan Sun casino key areas. This presented a major task as the glass is very heavy and costly for such large sizes. We developed a fire rated lexan material to simulate the glass at a much lower cost with fraction of the weight. The crackled design with no framework also presented an engineering feat since the panels were not touching and were held together with minimal clips. The bronze framework was flown to India to be hand beaded with specific colored glass jewels to complement the Italian glasswork. As always, we enjoy the highly creative environment with Mr. David Rockwell and Mr. David Mexico and their teams.

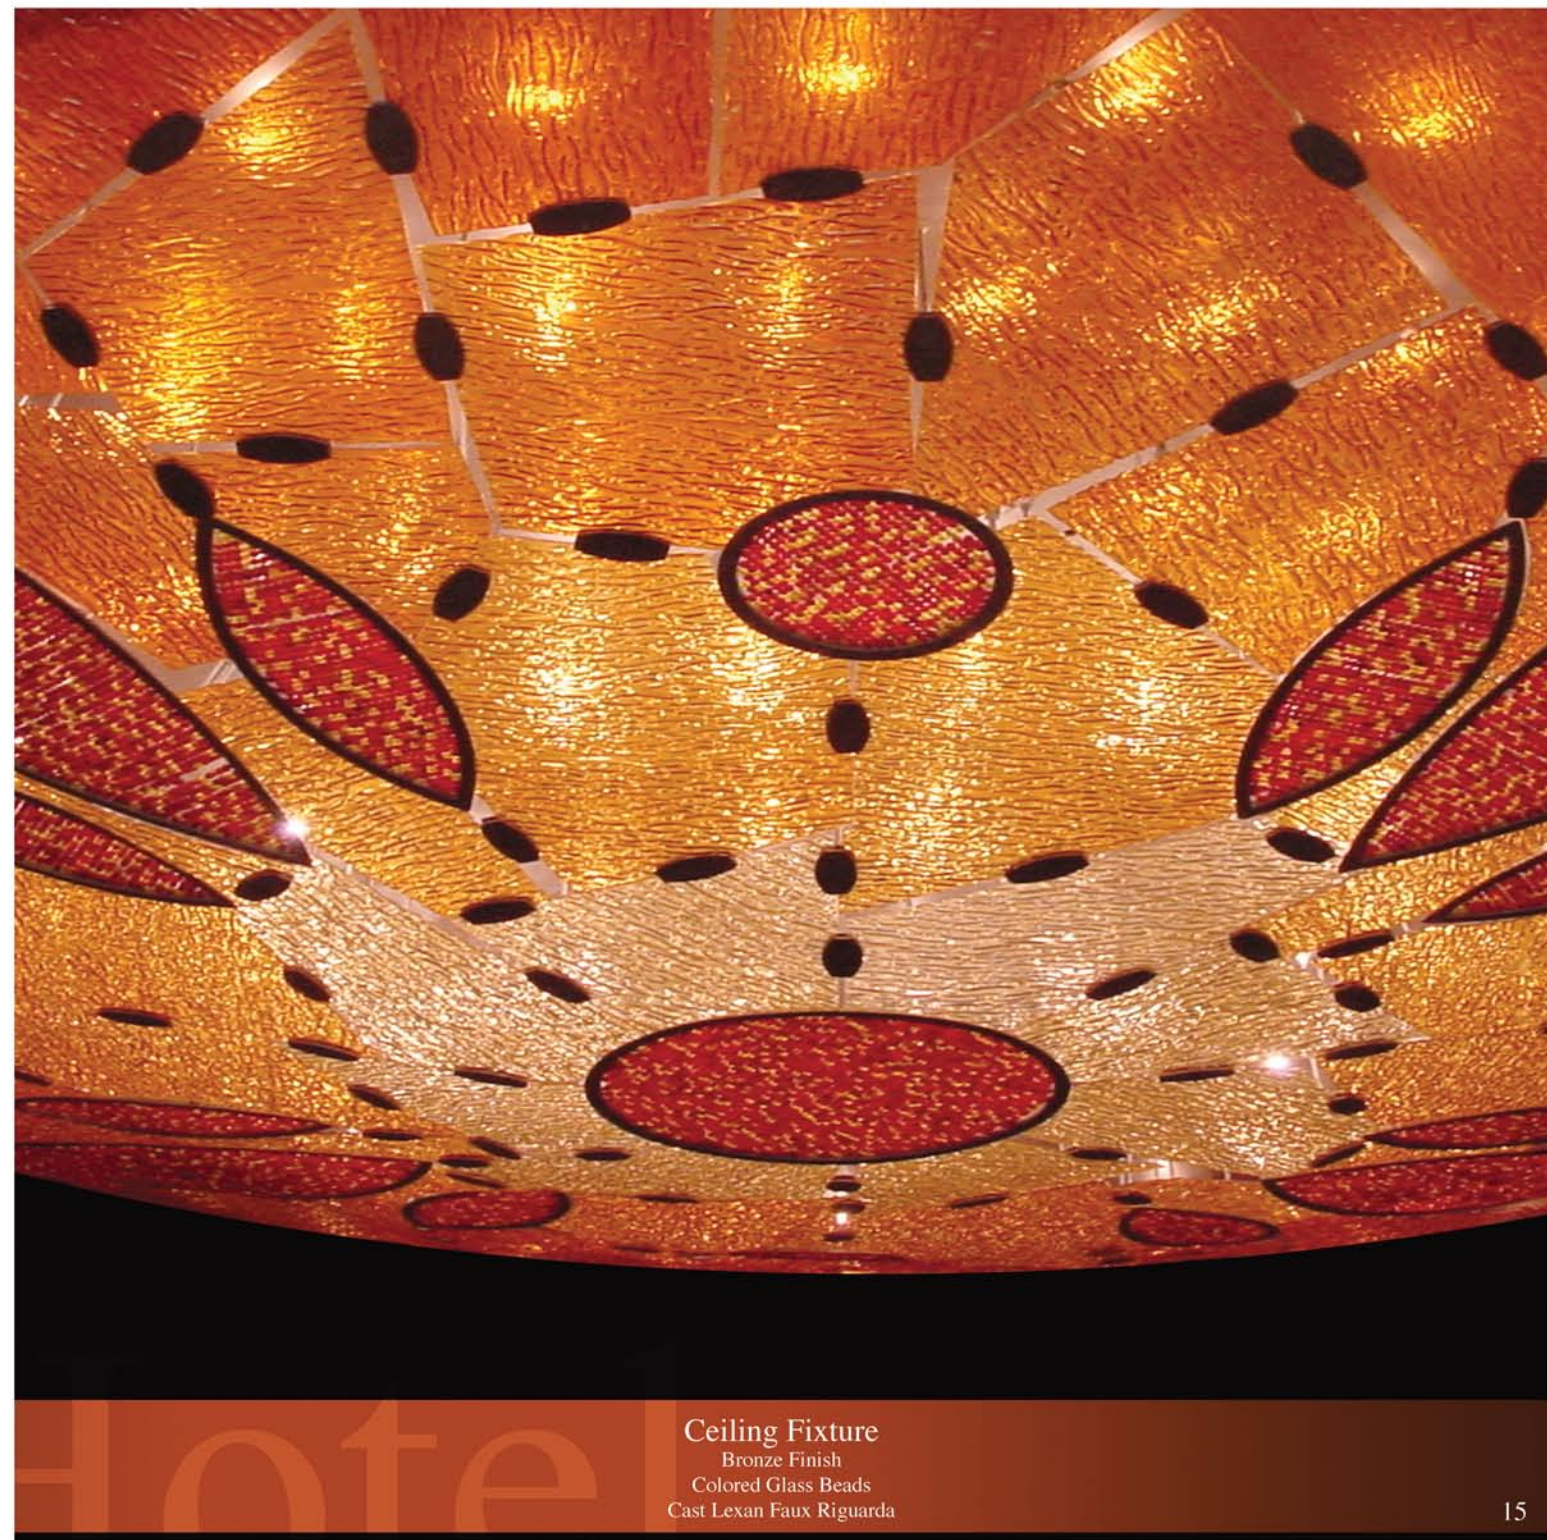

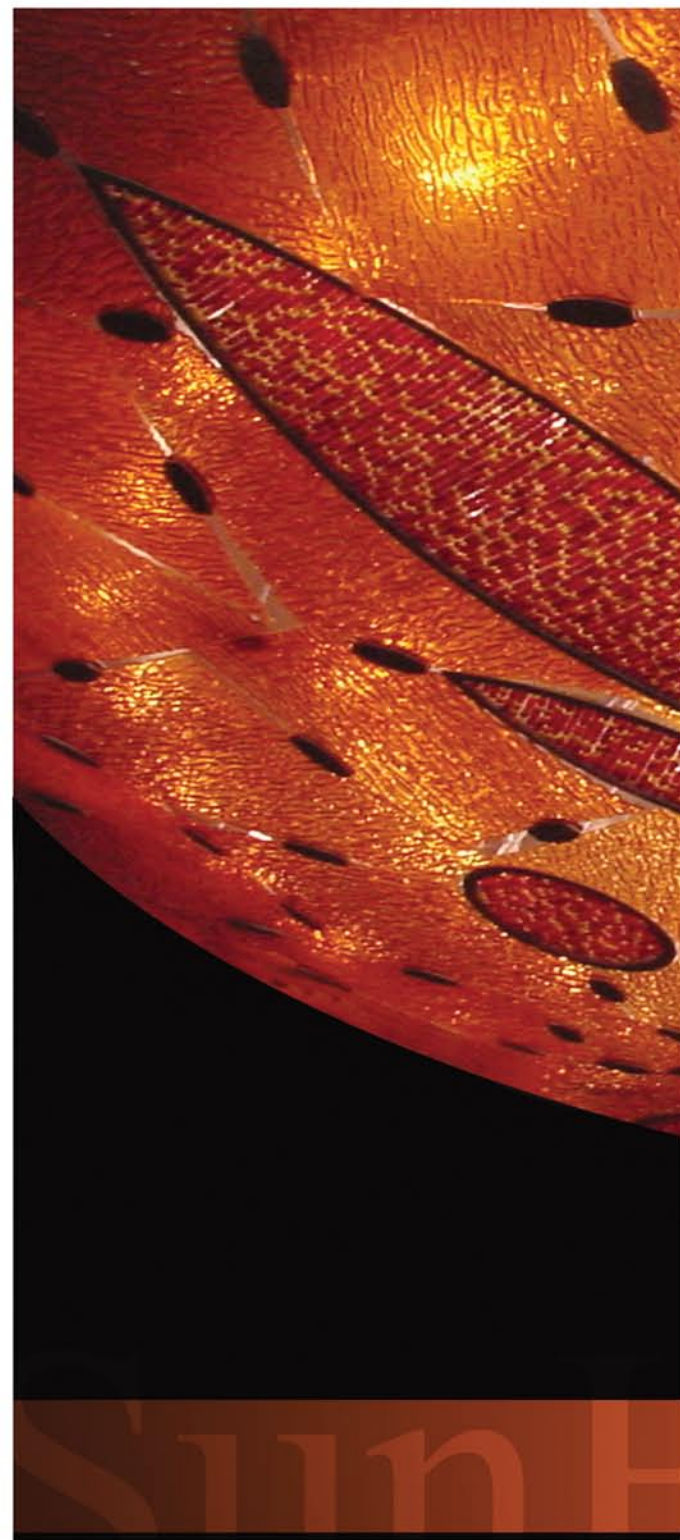

Hirsch Bedner Atlanta was hired to design the meeting facilities to complement the Rockwell Designs. We had the pleasure of working with Mr. Greg Bates of HBA to develop complementary fixtures for these facilities. Large scale faux Riguada chandeliers were designed and produced.

Higgins Purchasing Group

After the original design was turned down by the owners of this facility, Mr. Michael Bedner called on us to recreate a whole series of fixtures to compliment this St. Regis hotel. The owners also presented an impossible schedule for both design and manufacturing. We worked very closely with Mrs. Kathleen Dauber at HBA and Ms. Sharon Courtney at Higgins purchasing to meet their crucial deadlines. The end result is a beautiful installation of fresh designs and a very satisfied hotel owner.

Having successfully worked with Mr. Scott Perkins on the Tampa Marriott Hotel, we were called on to assist in designing and developing the classical fixtures for this Ritz property. We received high praise from the owners for the designs and quality of our large-scale iron fixtures. These were hand forged with cut Austrian glass hurricanes in combination with rock crystal pendaloques.

Richmond International Design
Metico Purchasing

Working over a period of 3 years with Richmond International, together, we developed a series of beautiful fixtures for this property. The combination of hand rubbed satin nickel and etched milky blown glass created a very clean contemporary feel to compliment this hotel. Working with Ms. Fiona Thompson and Ms. Lynlea Ulph was a pleasure throughout the design and manufacturing process. Working with a world renowned designer in London with the job site installation in the Middle East while manufacturing here in the US presented it's own logistical difficulties. However, daily contact with all parties involved, proved for a smooth delivery and installation.

Mr. Brad Conversano of Allard Conversano called upon us to assist in creating the difficult manufacturing marvel of a one piece carved cast resin in seven feet in diameter. After being awarded the contract our team of artisans worked very closely with Mr. Conversano himself to develop the detailed Caesars Palace motif on the cast diffusers. The end result is a series of beautiful pendants and sconces at the High Limit area of Caesars Hotel and Casino, Las Vegas.

BBGM Design
Marriott Purchasing

After becoming the successful bidder on this refurbishment project, our shop drawings were presented to Marriott and BBGM design for approvals. This facility presented the special task of coordinating the existing fire sprinklers and down lights with limited suspension positions. We worked very closely with Mr. Chris Wheeler at BBGM as well as Mrs. Janet Marie Young at Marriott headquarters to develop and redesign the new fixtures to utilize the existing suspension position as well as creating special sizes to fit the existing coiffures to satisfy the fire sprinklers. We also incorporated up/down lights into our fixtures since this main meeting room of General Motor's headquarters required crucial task lighting.
